

LEAVE NO TRACE GUIDE

Last Update: July 6th, 2019

“Leave No Trace” is one of the 10 Principles of Burning Man:

Our community respects the environment.

We are committed to leaving no physical trace of our activities wherever we gather.

We present to you, the ultimate Guide (in-progress) for LNT at Burn in the Forest!

Mt. Cheam (former site of BitF)

Table of Contents

Our Responsibility	2
Your Responsibility	2
What is MOOP?	3
Examples of MOOP:	3
Stop MOOP Before it Starts!	4
Best Practices for a MOOP-free Camp	4
Standard Camp / Site Cleanup Procedure	5
How to do a MOOP Sweep	5
Kitchen/Cooking - Grey Water and Dishes	6
Drinks	6
IMPORTANT <- READ ME	6
Eating Food	6
Site Facilities & Camp Recycling Bins	6
Lost and Found (Lost of flaiiiiiiled eh?)	7
Porta Potties	7
LNT while menstruating	8
Costumes	8
Sign Off Procedure for Theme Camps:	8

Introduction to the Land

The area in which we gather is the unceded territory of the Nlaka'pamux People.

<https://www.nntc.ca/pages/aboutus.aspx>

The land owners are a partnership of music appreciators with experience in the event industry - some of whom live on site.

<https://www.straight.com/music/934776/element-music-festival-organizers-build-organically-while-living-dream-snug-lake>

*The foundation of our relationship with all of our hosts is respect for the land...keep your site tidy and Leave No Trace!

Our Responsibility as the LNT Team

We, the Leave No Trace team, pledge to you to do our everything we can to empower you to Leave No Trace.

Things that we do are:

- Coordinate with all aspects of the event to provide support and tools to whoever needs them
- Create signs, and reminders, and visual cues to keep LNT at the forefront of your burner mind
- Creating documentation like this Guide
- Coordinate with theme camps so that they model best practices and have clean, beautiful camps
- Coordinate onsite MOOP prevention and reduction activities
- Perform the Monday MOOP sweep, and MOOP assessment
- Reports back to Production and the wider community on performance

At the end of the event we walk the site so that we have assurance that the production of the event leaves no trace. We have your back and we are not here to clean up after you :)

Your Responsibility as an Attendee

Whether you're a theme camper, an artist, an art car driver, a robot, a first timer, or a seasoned Burner, you are responsible for TWO things only:

1. Taking responsibility of your MOOP, and everything you bring to the event;
2. Holding your friends, fellow Burners and all citizens to account for their MOOP, and what they bring to the event.

If you see someone drop something, say something.
Better yet, pick it up. Be awesome.

We all share in the creation of this event and so the onus is on all of us as individuals to do as much as possible to make it a reality, which includes leaving no trace.

What is MOOP?

MOOP is an acronym for “Matter Out Of Place”. What does that mean? It refers to anything that is not originally of the land on which our event takes place. In the context of Leave No Trace, MOOP is anything that is brought to the site of the event. MOOP is any litter, glitter, the hair from your beard, or even your half-eaten pear. EVERYTHING IS MOOP. We pack everything out with us. Bio-degradable or not.

<https://burningman.org/event/preparation/leaving-no-trace/moop/>

Examples of MOOP:

The only things that are not MOOP (that you can leave on site) are things like grass, or dirt that was already there. Large rocks and fire-rings have to be placed back where you found them.

- eggshells	- cigarette butts & roaches	- clumps of human hair
- orange peels	- sequins & neon fluff	- mounds of toenail clippings
- beer cans	- all the things you brought with you	- bits of wood from projects
- bottle caps	- tent pegs	- all the things

Stop MOOP Before it Starts!

The best time to think about MOOP is as you are packing for the event. Take a quick look at your pile of stuff before you tetris it into your crates, boxes and tubs. Is there any unnecessary stuff or packaging? Did you bring clear garbage bags for recycling and garbage? Examine the things you are bringing and ask: will this create MOOP? If the answer is yes, don't bring it.

If you end up having to stop at Canadian Tire, or Wal-Mart on your way out to the event, you will be bringing a lot of packaging and potential MOOP with you on your way out of the store. Take a moment to open it all up and leave the packaging at the store. OR you can also plan ahead so you can de-package and re-pack the new stuff you plan on bringing.

Best Practices for a MOOP-free Camp

- Leave packaging at home
- Do a MOOP sweep before, and during to keep your camp clean as you go, then there is less pressure on those at the very end
- Make your LNT plan specific! (i.e. Who is bringing garbage/recycling/compost bins and bags? Who will conduct MOOP sweeps? Who/What/Where/How?)
- Have a Camp LNT Champion (a person who executes the plan and also knows how to find help)
- Use a ground tarp, or roll out matt to create a MOOP barrier
- Avoid bringing costumes that will shed
- Have a post-event cleanup schedule with specific responsibilities (identify who will do the camp MOOP sweep, and who will take away the garbage, compost and recyclables)
- Make sure that everyone in your camp is onboard with the camp's LNT plan and takes responsibility for themselves and each other
- Host a deMOOPing party where your camp invites guests to pitch in
- If you see someone drop something on the ground, say something
- Pre-cut veggies, cheese, meats and pack them in reusable tupperware
- Pre-cook dishes and freeze them for easy cooking and virtually zero prep onsite

Standard Camp / Site Cleanup Procedure

Do a MOOP Sweep of your site:

- Before you set up
- At least once during the event, or every day
- Sunday, after everyone has hauled their stuff to their vehicles.

Make sure to sweep surrounding bushes/pathways/roads. Make sure you pick up organics like sunflower seed shells, cherry pits, eggshells, orange peels, and bits of wood from projects. Even if the MOOP was already there, we are called to leave our site more free of MOOP than when we found it.

How to do a MOOP Sweep

Running a 'line' / walking the grid is the easiest way.

1. Have as many people as you can stand in a line next to each other just outside the boundaries of one side of your site
2. Have the people spread out to a little more than arms length apart
3. Walk the length of your camp / site together picking up MOOP as you go
4. When you reach the end of that part of the grid, move the group over and continue until the site has been fully walked over

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Xz9aoS9xeR8>

Image: <https://journal.burningman.org/2012/09/black-rock-city/leaving-no-trace/moop-map-live-2012-day-1-results/>

Theme camps that reported using this method left the least MOOP behind. This technique is the easiest and most effective with bigger, rather than smaller groups. LNT uses a multiple crews of 10+!

Kitchen/Cooking - Grey Water and Dishes

There is absolutely no dumping of grey water on site.

Water from washing dishes, showering and brushing teeth etc is called grey water and it must be collected, contained and taken with you when you leave.

Never put grey water in the lake and do not use soap in the lake. Limit your use of soaps on land. Dilute them. Use phosphate-free and biodegradable soaps only. Do not leave puddles of standing water.

Drinks

Transfer your drinks to a reusable drinking container when walking around the event. You cannot walk around with drinks in aluminum cans or glass bottles. NO GLASS!

<https://youtu.be/mjvPc2lQ7J4?t=15s>

IMPORTANT <- READ ME

Alcohol is allowed to be consumed at your campsite. You cannot walk outside of your camp with any open alcohol. DO NOT walk around with cans of beer or glass bottles of liquor.

Eating Food

If you're going to a party and you know there's food there, bring your own plate, cup and spoon (you can eat anything with a spoon), or spork, or fork, you won't need a knife. BYOP, BYOS, BYOEverything and PACK IT OUT.

Site Facilities & Camp Recycling Bins

As Burners we practice Radical Self-Reliance. There is no disposal provided on site. Each camp must bring their own bins for garbage, recycling, and compost. Make sure your camp has an agreement on who will take which bin with them after the event is over. Make sure they have room in their vehicle. If you separate your waste properly, you will find that it actually smells less and is easier to transport.

We suggest having to following bins:

COMPOST (Green Bin, ASTM D6400 Certified Bag) OR Use large sealable/locking tupperware

CONTAINERS (Blue Bin, clear garbage bag)

PAPER (Yellow Bin, clear garbage bag)

GARBAGE (Black Bin, clear garbage bag)

#safetyalert

!!!AVOID BLACK GARBAGE BAGS!!!

Some waste disposal companies will only accept clear bags for safety reasons.

Non-clear bags also hide the waste, which encourages out of sight, out of mind mentality.

Lost and Found (Lost of flaiiiiiiled eh?)

During the event, check out the “Lost & Found” Center Camp Crew HQ.

After the event, the LNT co-leads will take photos of flailed items, post an album to the event page, take the items home and keep them for exactly one week. If you do not claim your MOOPY stuff within the week of the Facebook post, it will be donated.

Porta Potties

The only things accepted in the depths of the portable toilets are:

- Single ply toilet paper
- The various liquids and solids that are produced by your body:
pee, poo, vomit, menses

Do not put any of the following items in the porta-potty:

- No Wet-wipes
- No “Flushable” wipes
- No Tampons, maxi pads
- No Garbage of any kind
- No Organics (e.g. orange peel, apple core)

(These items can get lodged in the machines that pump out the porta-potties, which creates back-pressure, sucking in the tube until BOOM! Shit everywhere. NOBODY wants that!)

LNT while menstruating

The 'Diva Cup' is recommended as a waste-free menstrual container. If you are using tampons or pads, bring a baggy with you so you can pack them out of the porta-potty with you. Have a baggy tucked away in your bag, purse, or back pocket so you don't get caught without it.

Costumes

There are certain items that are likely to shed during the event and become MOOP. The following costumes and materials are high-potential MOOP items, and are best left at home:

- Glitter
- Sequins
- Beads
- Feathers
- Tassels
- Furs/Furry suits (use a lint roller, or tape to take out all the bits that are fallen out)

Sign Off Procedure for Theme Camps:

Picture the scene: it's Sunday, your theme camp is packing up and getting ready to leave.

Once you have packed and loaded all your items, your team is ready to do a MOOP Sweep of your camp and surrounding periphery. (See MOOP-Sweep instructions above). Once your MOOP-Sweep is finished, locate a LNT Ambassador who will sign you out. They will check your camp for signs of MOOP and so long as nothing is found, they will sign you out. You can find that person at Centre Camp/Vol HQ or walking around with a radio and a stylish LNT cape. Once they have confirmed your site is MOOP-free, they will sign you out and you are ready to go!

If there is anything you think we can do to further the principle of Leave No Trace at Burn in the Forest, please contact us at LNT@burnintheforest.com